Dear Sherri:

Once again, I don't know how you do it, but I want to tell you how impressed I am with your activities and the quality of information you distribute through your newsletter, especially the Winter, 1988-89 issue.

Those of us involved in a number of animal welfare or rights issues often take a great deal of "heat" from those who either don't understand what wildlife and nature is all about or take for granted the "wisdom" of certain officials who deal in wildlife management.

You have always taken a strong position, but your ability to communicate with those management officials has often resulted in a better understanding of where we are coming from. I believe it has paid off in some instances, for the animals, but we have a long way to go.

If you print this letter, I hope your members or potential contributors will dig in their pockets a little deeper to support your worthy cause.

Continued luck and best wishes to you.

Sincerely,

Dennis J. White
